NATIONALITY

The entry for nationality is determined only by the artist's country of birth. Many artists moved to another country as children and grew up to become citizens of their new home country, or emigrated as adults with a resulting change of citizenship, or they moved as adults from their home country to live and work elsewhere as artists but retained the citizenship of their birth country. The artist's entry in the inventory will note these circumstances. Nationalities in bold indicate a double-digit count.
